The Examiner claims that Harry Dam, an old newspaper man, is the author of the "Jack the Ripper" letters. They always had the appearance of being a "Dam" fake to the APPEAL.

Frank and Charles Boschwitz, alias the "Pair of Jacks," are in the city, and if anyone thinks the McKinley bill is of no benefit to American tobacco-growers, it would be a good idea for that person to interview them.

The great chemical trust in England has been registered as the United Alkali Company, with a capital of $30,000,000 in $50 shares. Such a chemical company would find a splendid field for operations in Nevada, where soda and all such minerals are to be had for the digging.

INSANE INDIANS.

The Condition of Things Growing Serious—Troops in Demand.

Troops have been ordered to the scene of the Indian troubles from all parts of the Union, even as far West as California.

The redskins have already commenced to commit depredations, and the Choctaws have killed a United States Marshall in Texas.

Buffalo Bill and General Miles think Sitting Bull should be arrested, as his influence among the ghost dancers is greater than that of any other redskin, and while he is present the orgies are kept at a high pitch. They have stolen 3,000 head of Government cattle and failed to show up at the supply camps to receive their monthly allowance.

A dispatch to the Chicago Daily News from Pine Ridge confirms the report that many Indians from Rosebud are joining the hostiles on the way to the bad lands. Night Hawk, one of the hostile chiefs, sent a letter to Agent Royer, which the agent would not make public. It is said to contain this threat: "Send your soldiers to take us; we are ready to fight."

A special to the Omaha Bee from Pine Ridge says: Judge Burns of Deadwood has arrived, having run the gauntlet of the hostile camp, and declares he is thankful that he escaped with his life. He corroborates fully the previous reports as to the abundance of food and ammunition which the Indians have, and says they are making up a big supply of a new pattern tomahawk, which is more ugly than the old style.

Before the expiration of this week blood will flow, unless Mr. Lo is done up by arbitration.

Should a call be made on the Nevada troops they will respond readily.

A New Plow.

The mechanics are just completing a powerful snow plow for the V. & T. R. R., that is considered amply capable of displacing all the snow that may fall this winter. It is a new model, and if the mails are delayed this year it will be the fault of the S. P. road.

Last year a blockade of 21 days was raised only by a mighty effort and considerable expense to the road, while this year ample precaution is being taken.

New rotary plows are in condition to operate on the S. P., which with all its modern appliances, found it as difficult to effect an opening as the V. & T. with old style plows.

The Storm.

About midnight Tuesday it began to rain, and continued to fall in torrents till morning, when the rain changed to sleet and then to snow falling in dense masses to the depth of two inches.

Old Sol however, asserted his rights about 10 o'clock yesterday morning and poked his smiling face through the leaden clouds with good effect, and the snow melted away under an almost cloudless sky by the afternoon.

Later in the afternoon the snow began falling again and continued in its silent way up to a late hour when the APPEAL went to press.

This is a red letter day for the ranchers.

Indian Silversmiths.

It appears not to be generally known that the Alaska Indians are cunning workers in the precious metals. The Nevada City (Cal.) Herald mentions the receipt by Mrs. H. Stanfield of that place, of a package of two pairs of silver bracelets sent her by her husband, who is employed at the Treadwell mine. The bracelets were made by an Indian known as Chilcat Jack. The bracelets are tastefully and unique engraved, and attract great attention.

Jimisms.

Parnell, the Irish idol, has been convicted of climbing into another man's hammock, which demonstrates that he is not such a sincere believer in Home Rule as he pretends to be.

No other camp on the coast can muster so many good shooters. At the Christmas turkey shooting match it is proposed to put the birds on the pinnacle of Mount Dana and let the riflemen take rest over the top of Mount Gilcrest. This will give the turkeys a chance to have some fun previous to the final squawk.

Myriads of butterflies invaded the canyon on Thanksgiving Day, which is evidence that our climate, just at this time, is not very arctic. But wait a bit. When Old Boreas starts out in earnest a cast-iron eagle will have to hug the rocks closely to keep his wings from being blown out by the roots.

At Compton, Cal., a few evenings ago, the house of a man was spattered with ink and cotton eggs, because he has for many years refused to become a naturalized citizen. We do not believe in any sort of Ku-Klux business like this, but there ought to be some legal way of getting at foreigners who persistently decline to become citizens, while enjoying all the protecting benefits of the law. There are several in Mono county, and they should be made to pay a high license for breathing American air.

Cleveland Coming.

A gentleman well informed in theatrical affairs, remarked to the writer: "As a manager, W. S. Cleveland ranks with the best. He possesses every great qualification necessary to the position. In resoluteness, ardor of spirit, and indomitable energy he has few, if any superiors. I have observed his advancement for a number of years, and one splendid managerial achievement has followed the other, until the whole series savor of romance. Starting without money, he stands to-day in the commanding position of the sole owner and manager of four great Minstrel Companies, aggregating two hundred and eighty people, representing an investment of $150,000. One of these superb organizations, 'Cleveland's Colossal Colored Carnival Minstrels,' will appear here Dec. 11th, at the Carson Opera House. Seats now on sale at Hawkin's Cigar store.

A Challenge to Kehoe.

I hereby challenge Wm. Kehoe of Virginia City, to fight me, Thomas McCormack, to a finish, at any time or place he may mention. I will put up $1,500 against $1,000, the fight to be conducted under any rules most convenient to him. Man and money now ready at Dempsey's Saloon, Carson City, Nevada.

THOMAS MCCORMACK.

Mr. Kehoe should now come to the front and accept this liberal challenge thrown directly at his feet or else take the bitter dose and quit.

A "chemical lung" is the latest thing proposed for the ventilation of tunnels. It was lately tested in London by fourteen scientists. A room 15 by 18 was kept for an hour at a temperature of 92 degrees, and the air was loaded with impurities. The men of science were now called upon to enter, and the air was made still more impure by burning sulphur and carbonic acid gas. Then the "chemical lung," or punkah, so called, measuring 4 by 2.6, was set in motion. The temperature was soon reduced to 65 degrees, and the air freed from all impurities. Then fat was burned, to test the machine for organic substances, and the "lung" was started up just in time to prevent the examining gentlemen from running out for fresh air. It is proposed to use the invention during the construction of the channel tunnel.

The lung might be applied to the Committee Rooms of the California Legislature with good effect, if this session is like the last one.
